3. Student Tracking by Completions, by National Student Clearinghouse arrived at the college early this summer and was presented to Office of Administration. Some items of note: The non-traditional aged students were much more likely to complete a degree at DACC than the national cohort, and much less likely to continue elsewhere, particularly a four year institution.
4. Developmental Math sequence was discussed briefly. Tracking student's completion of developmental coursework needs to be changed as now a career and technical course is a prerequisite for a developmental course for some students.
